Funds Granted To Antioch

For the fourth successive year the Research Corporation of New York has granted funds to Antioch College to finance a research project in chemistry directed by Dr. J. Moyer Hunsberger, associate professor of chemistry at the college.

"It is a pure research project to determine molecular structures," Dr. Hunsberger described the work. "However, while our work is not directed toward any specific object we hope our findings will be applicable in a number of fields."

Money granted by the New York non-profit organization is used only for special equipment and to pay student assistants. Dr. Hunsberger's services are contributed and Antioch's own organic laboratories are used for the experiments.

In addition to full-time student assistants, Dr. H. S. Gutowsky of the University of Illinois is a co-worker on the project.

"Dr. Gutowsky is working on the actual infrared spectra and also helping with interpretation," Dr. Hunsberger said. "Our main job here is to prepare the compounds." Dr. Hunsberger pointed out that the project is directly helpful to students going on with work in chemistry. Since the project started in 1950, three student assistants have received National Science Foundation fellowships for graduate study.

Stated purpose of the Research Corporation of New York which is financing the work is "to make inventions endow research." The corporation was founded in 1912 by Dr. Frederick G. Cottrell who contributed his patent rights to several inventions in the field of electricity. Since then other scientists have followed his lead, donating their rights in income-producing inventions to the corporation. All earnings from these patents are used for the advancement of science, particularly through grants to small college for research.

Library Association Meets

The Yellow Springs Library Association met at the library Wednesday Dec. 9, Mrs. Harold Hackett was elected vice president to complete the term of Mrs. Van Wart who has moved away.

Mrs. James Mitchell, chairman of Ways and Means announced that February 13 had been set for the date of a bake sale at Deaton's. The Valentine motif will be used. Members of the Association who desire to give parties - card or otherwise for the benefit of the library are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Mitchell. These parties will serve as an excellent opportunity to get acquainted with new members as well as to raise money.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Greene Co. Medical Association invited the Library Club members to attend a meeting in Xenia, January 6, to hear Dr. Simpson speak on "Medical Health." Those wishing further information were asked to contact Mrs. H. M. Berley.

Mrs. Harry Bennet of Bennet Print Shop, 8 West High St., Springfield gave a talk and demonstration of gift wrapping. Her subject was "Too Pretty to Open." Besides printing, her shop sells cards and has an assortment of gift-wrappings and jewelry.

She showed two kinds of ribbon - the Tie-Tie and one made by the Scotch tape people. The Tie-Tie has adhesive in it and can be used in ways the other can not.

In wrapping a gift, first decide on the paper. There a number of kinds of such as block print, spatter, etc. There is also the jumbo package of paper, 27 inches by 41 inches, as well as the smaller size. The second step is to choose the color of your tie. Select one of the less prominent colors in your paper. There are many types of bows front which to choose, depending upon the person and occasion; the simple bowstring bow, the tree or maybe the rose bow.

The art of bow-tying can be used in other ways besides gift-wrapping such as making lapel ornaments, place cards or Christmas tree decorations.

In gift-wrapping besides paper, ribbon, etc., one needs both his hands and his two front teeth.

Following the talk, tea was served and everyone had an opportunity to inspect the "Too Pretty to Open" boxes, the material used and to ask questions.

Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Wingfield are in Chicago, attending a ten-day medical meeting.

Kettering Gives $100,000 Challenge

Charles F. Kettering, General Motors research genius Friday night announced a $100,000 challenge gift to Wilmington College. The conditions: that the college raise $300,000 additional to provide $400,000 needed for campus dormitory construction.

Dr. Samuel D. Marble, president of the Quaker college which is this week dedicating a $45,000 Fine Arts Center, responded to the Dayton inventor with a report that the second 100,000 of the total sum has been pledged by four contributors.

Kettering spoke at Industry-Business Night in Boyd Auditorium as one of the highlights of a continuing report by the college to all individuals and firms which aided with construction of the Fine Arts Center.

He lauded the willingness of the college to begin projects in the face of great odds by saying "problems are difficult only when the tools you attack them with are inadequate."

As a challenge to his audience and to the world in which he stands as the dean of American inventors, "Boss" Kettering asked: "What can you do by yourself? How intelligent can you think? How well can you use your fingers?" He called these the three best guides to self appraisal.

Lions Club Ladies Night

Glen Massman, president of the Foremen's club Dayton, was the guest speaker at the second annual ladies' night dinner of the Yellow Springs Lions club held Dec. 8 at the Wishing Well Inn, Centerville.

Mr. Massman, discussing "What Are You Worried About?", combined lively humor and practical advice in a talk that drew warm applause from his audience.

A unique feature of the evening was the presentation to each of the 25 wives attending of a gift from a foreign country. Lions Henry Federighi and Albert "Bud" Johnson obtained the gifts by writing to secretaries of Lions clubs in other lands.

There were many "ohs" and "ahs" as the gifts were opened. Among them were a Nottingham lace tablecloth, a brass mantel ornament from London, a Scotch wool scarf, a Danish crystal bell, handmade handkerchiefs from Switzerland and Italy, costume dolls, and other delightful samples of the arts and crafts of many countries.

Mr. Federighi, in presenting the gifts, spoke of the brotherhood generated by the international organization, as symbolized by the response from foreign clubs. He said he hoped the gesture was one that might help to promote round-the-world friendliness.

MRS. FINK THINKS—

YES, MR. VILLAGE MANAGER, we saw that huge trash container in front of the I.O.O.F. building - bright yellow too - What's more, we saw some one put her candy wrapper in it, instead of throwing it on the street. Now if every one would do likewise, we wouldn't be going around saying those 'not so nice' things about our village sidewalks!

Music Festival Workshop

Antioch College and the Musical Youth of America will sponsor a one week national music festival and four week music workshop at Antioch next summer.

The festival, to run from June 26 to July 2, is planned to run for three consecutive summers. The workshop, also starting June 26, is on a trial basis. Walter Anderson, head of Antioch's Music Dept., will co-direct the festival and will have entire jurisdiction over the workshop.

A budget of from 40 to 60 thousand dollars has been fixed for the event. Ten thousand will be used for hiring artists and the rest to finance publicity, commission new works to be performed at the festival, etc.

Antioch will provide a place for the festival and room and board for participants in return for certain fees; will also arrange seating, lights, tickets, secretarial help and local direction by Anderson.

The workshop is expecting an enrollment of from sixty to seventy students, mostly of high school age. Registration will close May 1. If not enough students are enrolled by that date, the workshop will be cancelled. The program will consist of private instruction, discussions, classes and rehearsals for a limited number of concerts, as well as recreational activities which will be supervised by Antioch student counselors.

School Board Holds Last Meeting of Year

The Miami Township Board of Education met for the last time in 1953 Thursday night with Eugene Birch presiding. All members were present with the two newly elected members, Mr. Dawson and Mrs. Betscher, sitting in.

Final yearly reports were given and approved.

Several subjects came up for discussion, among them the buying of new typewriters and getting a plaque to designate Antioch College as the donor of the property on which the new grade building has been built.

A policy is being formed pertaining to the use, and charge, if any, of the grade school auditorium by other than school organizations. Mr. Jackson will make plans whereby a room will be available for grade children during recess periods when the weather is inclement.

Parking along Walnut St. was discussed. The Board feels that the ideal situation would be no parking on the school side of the street. However, they concede that the Village Council must make the final decision.

Mr. Halechin was asked to present a long-term plan in regard to personnel, curriculum, etc., for the coming year.

Mr. McPhaden commented, with all other members concurring, on the untiring and excellent work done by the retiring members, Mr. Acton and Mr. Birch. Mr. Acton and Mr. Birch responded by saying how glad they were to have been able to serve and how much they had learned during the years of service.

The next meeting will be January 4, 1954, at which time the new members will be sworn in and the board will be re-organized.

Rep. Ankeney Seeks Re-Election

State Rep. Herman K. Ankeney, Beavercreek township, announced today that he will seek re-election to the Ohio House of Representatives from Greene County. His current term in the 100th General Assembly is his first elective office. His nominating petitions as a candidate on the Republican ticket are now in circulation.

In the 100th Assembly, Ankeney's committee assignments are Agriculture and Taxation. Both are important committees with exceptionally heavy schedules. He has sponsored three bills which have been enacted into law, all designed to save the taxpayer money. Ankeney also actively opposed proposed legislation restrictive to farmers and small business men. His record has brought favorable comment from practically all segments of our economy, his supporters say.

Rep. Ankeney has long been active in the Republican party, having served many years on the Greene County GOP and Executive Committees. His father, the late Horace Ankeney, represented Greene County in the 74th and 75th General Assemblies and later served two terms as Ohio's Dairy and Feed Commissioner, when that was an elective office. In the general election of 1904, his plurality vote for that office was the highest to that date for any state candidate except governor.

Educated in Beavercreek Township schools, Rep. Ankeney graduated from Heidelberg College, Tiffin, O., and attended the College of Agriculture at Ohio State U. Before returning to operate the farm on which he was born and which he now owns, Ankeney was engaged in property management, home construction and real estate sales in Dayton. He now operates his own and adjoining farms totaling 350 acres.

DON'T BE ANTI-SOCIAL

The whole country-side is aglow with Christmas decorations; the little kiddies are hopefully writing their letters to Santa Claus, and sweethearts are hinting while they, too, are hoping. Aside from its religious implications, the lights and trees, the scrawled "deck the halls" notes, the gifts so carefully wrapped for loved ones and the happy laughter of children are the wonderful things about Christmas. But, among some people, there is another ominously unpleasant phase of Christmas observance.

For these folk, Christmas means a round of drinking. Insofar as your editor is concerned, drinking is a question to be determined by each individual. However, drinking and driving is another matter, indeed. Crowded and slippery highways to be expected during this holiday season make drunken driving suicidal. Still worse, the drunken driver is a menace to all other motorists. One flick of that steering wheel and a drunken driver can snuff out the life of a child run off the joy of living; he can slash scars on the face of a lovely girl which will penetrate permanently into her heart or he can disable the breadwinner of a family. No one wants his drinking to bring any of these tragic consequences.

So... if you drink, don't drive. If you actually suffer from suicidal impulses, use a rope, a high bridge or a cheap gun. Never having committed suicide, we offer no specific recommendation. But, please, don't use your automobile for that purpose by drunken driving. If you insist on drunkenly committing suicide, don't be anti-social about it, and mar the happiness of innocent people.

With a Buckeye In Congress...

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress, 7th Ohio District

The Supreme Court spent last week in listening to arguments of cases involving the constitutionality of segregated schools in the District of Columbia and various States. Plaintiffs contended that, under the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution, segregated schools are illegal, and requested the Court to issue an order prohibiting segregation. The Attorney General of the United States, Attorneys General of the various States, and a large array of other outstanding lawyers participated in the Supreme Court arguments.

A number of representatives of the CIO Local Unions from Springfield and the Seventh District were in Washington last week to attend a conference with Labor Secretary Mitchell and other Administration leaders. Unemployment compensation matters, and plans to meet any drop in employment, were under discussion. The number of workers drawing unemployment compensation benefits has gone up sharply in recent weeks. The Ohio Union officials reported an increase in unemployment in the Springfield area is beginning to cause concern.

Korean veterans, to whom the Federal Government gave free of charge $10,000 life insurance coverage when they entered service, have the right to convert their policies to 5-year term insurance at any time within 120 days after discharge, and to renew them at 5-year intervals. Such new policies pay no dividends, build up no cash value, and have no loan value, but do provide life insurance protection, payable to beneficiaries after the death of the insured, at very low rates -- $28.00 per year for a $10,000 policy on a 23-year old veteran. The rates increase slightly as the veteran becomes older.

The Morgenthau Plan for post-war Germany, which is now under discussion in connection with the Harry Dexter White case contained 11 provisions which may be worthy repeating here: (1) Reduce Germany to a pastoral state of small farmers; (2) Wipe out the country's armament industry; (3) Remove or destroy all other heavy industries; (4) Strip the Ruhr of industry, close its mines, make it an international zone; (5) Transfer border areas to invaded countries; (6) Distribute seized industries among the Allies; (7) Use forced German labor in other countries; (8) Confiscate all German assets abroad; (9) Break up big German estates to create small farms; (10) Partition Germany into two loose federations of states; and (11) Withdraw U.S. troops, leaving Germany to be policed by European troops, many of them from Communist-controlled countries.

A married couple, with no dependents, having a $3,000 net income in 1953, must pay a Federal income tax thereon of $399.60. Under the new tax reduction, which becomes effective December 31st, the 1954 tax on the same $3,000 net income will be reduced to $360.00. Such a couple, with a net income of $5,000, will pay $43.60 in income taxes this year, and only $760.00 next year. Those having net incomes of $10,000 will pay $210.00 tax thereon this year, and $1,886.00 next year. So, individual income taxes will average between 10 and 11 percent lower in 1954 than in 1953 on net incomes below $25,000, and about 5 percent on incomes in the higher brackets.

ROVIN'

With Ralph Shupe

Still couldn't do anything about the weather... but folks certainly were talking about it... The usual quota of traffic accidents attributable to slippery highways or careless drivers or both... True enough we can't do anything about the weather except talk about it... but... everyone CAN be careful... And... on account of we don't want to lose any of our readers... DO BE CAREFUL!... And now you know there isn't a mere shadow of a mercenary streak in us.

SIGNS OF THE SEASON:

Genial Jack Alexander... the big lumber and millwork man... handing out calendars which'll make wife's heart flutter and cause the most hardened bachelor to dream... at least casually... of that vine-covered cottage... the patter of little feet... and a spouse to ball him out when he comes in late from a "lodge" meeting... No kidding... tho... the calendars of Yellow Springs Lumber have nary a cutie... nary a landscape... just a series of doggone good-looking homes... apparently in the medium price range... If there is such a thing in prices nowadays... Mrs. Glenna Fink sending in a story thanking her next door neighbor... Bill Brannum... for shoveling snow off her sidewalk... The rust was knocked off a lot of shovels when that soft, cold, white stuff fell... and there should have been a noticeable increase in sales of liniment for creaking joints and aching backs... No reports yet this week from the "Barber Shop Frost"... office duties and icy roads kept our rovin' to a minimum.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP DEPT.

Good Citizen "Doc" Clyde Adams calls our attention to a feature in the current "Reader's Digest"... 'Tis by Dean Alfange. It should be required reading for everyone... even those among the "egg-heads" who think (if there are any)... Surely there are a few among the "liberals," "pinks," and "socialists" who can be salvaged and "re-built" into good citizens!... The Alfange "poetry in prose" should do them good and help them, too!

STUFF & SUCH: ... Another dance at the Legion Hall... Dayton St... Saturday night... That vent is on our list of "things to do"... Sixty-two young people from Greene Co are students this fall in thirteen schools which are members of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges, of which Antioch is a member... As a member of the "Society of Helpless Bachelors" we had to turn down offer of Charlie McFarland... big Xenia auto salesman who's now giving away needles to them as can use 'em.

PRESBY BAZAAR A SUCCESS...

The Presbyterian Holiday Bazaar from all standards, was a success, over $600 being cleared from the project.

The tea table proved to be a boon to the busy shoppers. It gave one a chance for a quiet chat with old and new friends alike. The hot do-nuts, made on the spot, sold just like hot cakes. The Arts and Crafts booth was a joy to the eye as well as the rest of the booths.

The committee in charge wish to thank all who helped as well as the shoppers who came.

"Chuck" Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lee of the Dayton Pike, celebrated his seventh birthday, Wednesday, with a dinner party.

"Glad To Be Home"

By "Eddie" Foos.

(Ed. note... Mr. Foos and Mr. J. Dean Perrine have just returned from a two months trip abroad. We think you will enjoy Mr. Foos' report just as he gave it to us.)

Left here (Yellow Springs) October 6 — sailed October 8. First stop, England. There, conditions are still fairly austere and food not very tasty. Trip to Stratford-on-Avon, Shakespeare's country. The thing most noticeable about England and all countries of Europe is that they are so tradition ridden. They do things now the way they have for centuries, JUST BECAUSE THEY WERE DONE THAT WAY for centuries.

Next France... Our first experience with a foreign language. We had trouble ordering food in Paris until we found a place that sold American hamburgers. We went on a night club tour and had quite a time. I got kissed (on the forehead) by one of the entertainers!

Next Nice, by bus, with an English speaking hostess to explain things along the way. Nice was very picturesque.

Then on down into Italy. Spent a night each at Genoa, Florence, Rome (three nights), Naples and Alcamo. Then (for me) the high point of the trip — the island of Capri with its Blue Grotto and its air lift to the top of the mountain and the highest point on the island. Switzerland came next, which was a disappointment, as there were no winter sports at all. In fact, there were no tourists at all.

Then Germany, where things were cheap — especially in the Army run eating places where we were not supposed to go, but which they almost forced us to use by cashing my travelers' checks in script which is good only at those places. A Swiss-steak dinner with drink and desert — 50¢ (Dick and Tom's take note). We bought some souvenirs to bring home.

Then on to South Hampton and home on the same boat on which we had crossed. The trip home was a little rough but apart from our suitcases all coming out from under our bunks and sailing across the room, it was an uneventful trip.

Home December 10, and it was really good to get home.

Mrs. Belle Bachrach of Plymouth, O., visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hughes and family for a week during Thanksgiving holidays.

Social Gospel Rapped By Clergymen

You too may have heard well-intentioned churchmen insist that a clergyman cannot be a Communist but we all know that Communists pose as clergymen. The Rev. Claude Bunzel, executive secretary of the American Council of Christian Churches of California describes the technique in a new 16 page pamphlet, "The Christian Gospel Versus the Social Gospel."

"It shows how our churches have been infiltrated through use of the 'Social Gospel.' These Reds are few in number but their influence reaches far because of those planted in the theological seminaries. The student ministers they have trained now preach to millions.

The pamphlet is a systematic arrangement of passages from government reports containing the testimonies of such witnesses as Joseph Kornfeder, Herbert Philbrick, Benjamin Gitlow and Manning Johnson. It may be ordered from the American Council of Christian Churches of California, 42 North Raymond Ave., Pasadena, Calif. 15c per copy or less in quantities.

Editor's Dream

Do-it-yourself will welcome a new counter-top material at a greatly reduced price. It cuts with scissors, adheres permanently with cement . . . A spirit-level device makes it possible to drill holes at precisely square angles with portable drills . . . You may now buy a French-frier to fit into the long-cooking well in your gas range, if you have that kind . . . A super-sonic burglar and fire alarm, which operates by bouncing high-frequency waves from wall to wall, kills mice as an extra dividend, and gives rats headaches . . . Perhaps that friend who has everything doesn't have a keychain which pops out the key in the dark, when he presses a corresponding raised symbol on the cage.

WE SEE BY THE PAPER that Elder Welch and Son of Route 1, attended a recent auction of registered Aberdeen-Angus cattle at Den-Mor Farms, near Wilmington. It cost them plenty — they paid 1,150 for an Angus cow.

Mrs. Alton Printz, 612 Phillips St., left Sunday morning for Brewer, Maine to attend the funeral of her father, Mr. William Starkey. Mrs. Printz had just recently returned home after some time spent with him in Brewer.

Donald Hustler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hustler, Springfield Pike, and Senior at Ohio University, left Tuesday for a ten day trip to New York City. The trip is sponsored by Ohio U. and includes fifteen students. Plans have been made to visit the U.N., Metropolitan Opera and other points of interest. Donald expects to arrive home in time for Christmas.
